We have in the past conducted several Marriage Enrichment Classes using first their VHS video and more recently their DVD version. While the classes were a success we thought it would be even better to know what was contained in the workbooks by Drs. Carl Brecheen and Paul Faulkner and maybe for future classes incorporate some of their ideas and points from the workbook. The workbook has given us an insight to their way of thinking and will be incorporated in our next class on Marriage Enrichment. We are looking forward to our future classes!

"Paul and Carl were among the early ones in the field of marriage enrichment," said Dr. Royce Money, president of ACU. "Since that time, scores of videos and DVDs have been made by various Christian authors and counselors. By any measure, they have to be considered among the national leaders in the field."

Faulkner, professor emeritus of Bible at ACU, served as the chair of the Department of Marriage and Family Therapy from 1978-89 and was named Teacher of the Year in 1982. Brecheen and Faulkner, along with their wives, Smitty and Gladys, were co-recipients of the university's Christian Service Award in 2001.

"There is no way to measure the impact Paul and Carl have had across the country in recent decades," said Money. "They have told me that time after time couples come up to them and tell them that they are happily together as a married couple because of Carl and Paul's influence. Because of this far-reaching contribution in our brotherhood and far beyond, they have to be recognized as a major force for building stronger marriages in recent decades."
