

The Place for a Village: How Nature Has Shaped the City of Melbourne, Lindy Allen, Gary Presland, Museum Victoria Staff, Museum Victoria Publishing, 2009, 0980619025, 9780980619027, . [an] illuminating natural history of Melbourne...much more than an exploration of how man shaped the landscape. The AgeForgotten landscapes and erased eco-systems are brought to life by Gary Presland who so eloquently reconstructs Melbourne at the time of European settlement. He looks at the history of Melbourne from the point of view of nature and considers the ways that urban development has been influenced by the nature of local environments. Gary Presland shows how natural landscapes have influenced the contours of the city and how we, in turn, have altered them. He draws on both historical and scientific sources to create a detailed and fascinating picture of diverse landscapes, supporting an enormous range of flora and fauna..
