

The Bible and Time: Does Another Universe Exist?, Dave / M. Pabis, Calvary Publishing, 2008, 0980204372, 9780980204377, . When did time begin? Is there a parallel universe? Which point do the Evolutionist and Creationist agree on? Are the Bible and Modern Science compatible? What was Albert Einstein working on when he died? Where is Heaven? When will time end? These are just a few of the many questions that will be answered in this fascinating study of the Bible and Time. The author's unique background in Applied Science and Theology brings a new perspective to the subject of time itself. Each chapter discloses information never before presented or discussed. The Bible student as well as the person of science will benefit from the numerous biblical and scientific references concerning the concept of time as it applies to our physical universe. Those who hold a literal view of the Bible and those who are skeptics will find common ground for discussion and debate. Some of the views of such leading physicists as Stephen Hawking and Albert Einstein will be examined in view of biblical references, which either support or refute their various theories about time and the formation of our physical universe. This book will certainly prove to be of interest to all who seek to learn more about our history and the future of this planet..
