

Spiritual Holocaust, Catherine Lee, GraceStar Publishing, 2006, 0978629914, 9780978629915, . For those of you that think your life is in shambles, or why you have been placed here to suffer difficulties and hardships. Think again. Everyone has a meaning, purpose and God given inheritance for being in this life. Some people just have trouble finding their way to the ultimate goal. Spiritual Holocaust is a unique and inspirational story of one woman's journey sustaining enormous emotional and spiritual adversities and overcoming them all with an unyielding faith and love in a God that she knew always existed from a very young age. Many of our Creator's chosen have suffered hardships, trials and heartache. Some of the most memorable people in history such as Jesus, Moses, Job, etc. have overcome tribulations throughout their lives and received great Glory for their suffering. Today, that is why we still know of them and honor them. It is our mission to understand that we fight against principalities and forces that are not always seen in the physical world. These can start out in the form of anger, jealousy, distention and strife and can manifest into a whole array of difficulties in the physical world. The closer we get to finding out what our chosen path is the more difficult situations can become. For instance if the dark forces, entities, or whatever you call them can break us down and keep us from seeing what our real purpose is then it has succeeded in robbing us from our God given inheritance. The real key is standing up against whatever comes our way and fighting off adversity. Also, in learning to protect ourselves against any future attacks. Only God provides us with the strength and wisdom we need for spiritual victory. One of my greatest prayers is "God don't let mine be a wasted life." That is my goal behind writing this book. To give people hope, inspiration and meaning through God's word. Throughout the book you will notice Biblical scripture as well as explanations that will give light to some of the challenges that you may face in your own life..
